This group of allied officials had charge of the food supplies and distribution under the American Relief Administration in Czecho-Slovakia, Jugo-Slavia and the Serbian and Balkan States. Capt. T. T. C. Gregory and Commander H. L. Pence, American representatives, are second and third from the left.

A new sport, born of the war, is hydro-skeeing, which is unusually popular in Italy. The boatlike "shoes" slide along the water quite fast when a pole or a paddle is used as a propeller.
